

Birds and the bees (sexual education)

A CLASH OF TRADITION AND CULTURE AND HAS LEFT HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS IN A BLUR.

A LACK OF SEXUAL EDUCATION HAS LED TO AN INCREASE OF TEEN PREGNANCIES AND STD'S, ESPECIALLY IN SOUTHWEST LOUISIANA.

LOUISIANA SCHOOLS THAT OFFER SEX ED ONLY TEACH ABSTINENCE, OR THE CHOICE NOT TO HAVE SEX, AND LEAVE STUDENTS WIDELY UNEDUCATED ABOUT THE REALITIES OF SEXUAL INTERCOURSE

- ▶ According to roadsnaacks.net, Louisiana has the HIGHEST rate of STD's in the United States.
- ▶ Cdc.gov says 30% of students aged 15-24 have chlamydia in Louisiana.

- ▶ Cdc.gov states that 24.2% of high school female students were pregnant between 15-19.
- ▶ 60% of teenage mothers drop out of high school, says ncsl.org.

- ▶ Info propaganda to help persuade parents to talk to their kids about safe sex
- ▶ Recreational programs to educate young adults about the dangers of STDs
- ▶ Encourage schools to allocate sexual education into the curriculum.
- ▶ Support groups to educate women on self-respect.
